CRAZY IN LOVE

In your "Dating Tips for the Mentally Unstable" in MAD #451, I noticed that in each scenario, the unstable person was male! If you don't think there are mentally unstable females, I can tell you about some of the women I've dated (including my ex-wife) that will convince you otherwise!

Bill Kohl, Omaha, NE

Old King Kohl — Tough break on the dating scene! We really feel for you. But here's a sure-fire way to tell whether a girl is crazy: if you ask her out and she says yes, then she's obviously Nutters O'Butters! Good luck and we'll see ya on match.com! —Ed.

Make A Dumb Wish Foundation™

As a reader of MAD for over nine years, I have read countless Make A Dumb Wish Foundation™ letters where contestants send in their slop of egotistical blabber and request things that would force God himself to cringe and turn a hateful eye. Not once did I ever feel obligated to ask anything for myself. In fact, I felt ashamed for even pondering the notion of wanting something from the already giving and nurturing MAD writers. Even though I have been satisfied and filled with laughter for nearly a decade, I dare do the dirty deed. Will the Make A Dumb Wish Foundation™ grant me my dumb wish?

JAILHOUSE SCHLOCK

Right now I'm in a juvenile corrections facility. I read your magazines all the time. My mom brings one every month. I was wondering who makes up all the jokes and funny stories?

Phillip Gomes, Cranston, RI

Dr. Phil — Funny you should ask that, considering where you're writing from! Most of our writers and artists were actually recruited right from the penal system! We first discovered John Caldwell through the extensive tattoo work he had done on Art Director Sam Viviano when they were cell mates at Rikers Island. And Desmond Devlin was hired (after a daring escape) because of the hundreds of hilarious death threats he wrote to Editor John Ficarra. We're a little concerned though. Al Jaffee's been missing deadlines because of his upcoming arson trial. Do you have any ideas for a Fold-In? —Ed.

I am starting a local DIYzine in Houston with some fellow writers and we need some help! It is near completion with news, satires, editorials and music reviews. Now all we need is a comic strip. I would greatly appreciate a short original comic strip from any writer or maybe even a unique piece of artistic humor from your janitor!

Ryan Brodie, Houston, TX

Rye bread — As you know, the goal of the Make A Dumb Wish Foundation™ is to grant the dumb wishes of our fans. So we are happy to report that we are making your dumb wish come true. We are honored that you asked us to contribute to your DIY magazine. Below is a little strip we like to call "The Adventures of Handyman and Fixer-upper." We hope it brings a little class to your 'zine! —Ed.

THE ADVENTURES OF HANDYMAN & FIXER-UPPER

Please note, however, that we retain all publishing rights and this strip can only appear in the pages of MAD. Enjoy and thanks for writing the Make A Dumb Wish Foundation™!

CRAPPY DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN

I've been reading your magazine since I was a kid. I just wanted to let you know that I think it's really funny. Not a very original compliment, I know. But seriously, sometimes when I'm having a really crappy day, MAD makes me laugh. You rock!

Russ Peplinski, Ontario, Canada

P.S. Could you please let me know how William M. Gaines died?

Rusty — Let us take a moment to describe our day today. It was magical! We flew a kite in the park, played with some Welsh Corgi puppies at the pet store, got soft-serve chocolate ice cream (in a waffle cone!) then came to the office to answer some reader mail. And that's when the day took a turn for the worse. You wanna talk about crappy days, Rusty? A crappy day is when you're having a really great day and then some "fan" reminds you that your dear friend is dead. Thanks for your letter and we hope you're having a great day! —Ed.

BIG BERNIE

You may recall back in issue #451 the sad, sad tale of Bernie Amero of Gloucester, MA, whose local store (spookily named The Willow Rest) stopped carrying MAD. After bugging them to start again, he gave up and just got a subscription...at which point the store caved in to his pitiful begging and decided to start carrying MAD again. Now this poor schmuck is stuck with two issues a month and he's looking to dump one of them. So, we asked readers to tell us why they deserve this questionable prize. The responses poured in and we proudly give you their pathetic pleas! Oh, and by the way Bernie, we hope you will write and tell us your verdict!

I deserve the subscription because I actually cry during Halo videogames. I was in tears when Cortana was left behind...and when Halo was destroyed the first time. So, I need that subscription because you guys are the only things that make me laugh after the death of the prophets! Ohhhh — it's so sad.

Alex Landreville, Edina, MN

I really need Bernie "Mr. Moneybags" Amero's extra MAD for my sanity. I work for the Federal Government. We have a fellow worker who would buy magazines and bring them in for everybody to read. Except myself because I am a purist and only read MAD. The other skinflints in my shop are so tight they would even remind him when magazines hit the stores so he would not forget to buy them. The guy has moved on to another shop. If I had an extra MAD, I could bring it to work and possibly alleviate the mind-destroying, relentless whining I must listen to about there being nothing new to read!

Stephen Spangler, Macy, IN

I want Bernie's extra copy. I've read MAD for years and I even had the board game. We used to play it for hours and when we eventually lost pieces we replaced them with other things. We had a car from the "Life" game, a "Monopoly" piece and a chess piece. But I digress! I deserve it for being a loyal MAD-man!

Mike Nix, Clear Spring, MD

Some time ago I received an offer from MAD for a free year's subscription for myself, so I could send another MAD subscription to a friend. Now that friend has questioned my sanity and recommended me for an intervention. However, my idea would be for Bernie to continue purchasing MAD from The Willow Rest as that is very good for small business and get a change of address for the subscription (i.e. 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. Washington, DC)

Prudence Meyers, Ft. Myers, FL

I believe I deserve his extra copy and this is why: I am a Pastor (a low-paying, high-stress job) a female Pastor (more stress), a female Pastor in a small town (our town library can't afford any magazine subscriptions, much less one to MAD) and a female Pastor in a small town in Iowa (enough said)! Please consider me for this offer of "cheap humor."

Leila Blackburn, Griswold, IA

Send your extra copy to me. I ran out of toilet paper and I've been sitting here for the past three days!

Dan Cardillo, Riverside, CT

PUTTING SHAME IN YOUR GAMES

MAD reader/Games magazine fan (and shut-in) David Hegner of Newton, NJ, brought to our attention that a puzzle in the April, 2005 issue featured a MAD-related entry. For your pleasure and our bragging rights, we happily reprint (without permission), the puzzle and the clue. By the way, Dave, if you subscribed to MAD, Games AND Guns & Ammo, you'd pretty much have the trifecta that makes up most serial killers' reading lists! —Ed.

Double Cross

By Michael Ashley

Answer the clues on the crossword puzzle, and enter the letters in the squares to the corresponding crossword puzzle in the empty grid to reveal a secret reading from left to right. Black squares indicate words that are not part of the puzzle. Your final letters will spell the author's name and the source of the puzzle.

READER ALERT

It's the MAD editors that have to suffer as they sift through countless moronic letters every month. Yet, somehow, it is the reader that is rewarded! This month, every person who had their letter printed will receive a free copy of the Spaceballs: Collector's Edition DVD courtesy of MGM! Look for other exciting giveaways in issues ahead. By the way, for all you losers who didn't get your letters published, the Spaceballs DVD will be in stores May 3, 2005!

THE FAST 5 THE APPRENTICE: THE MARTHA STEWART EDITION

WHAT'S SHE GOING TO SAY INSTEAD OF "YOU'RE FIRED"?

PAGES

Star Wars: Episode III – REVENGE OF THE SITH Opening Crawl: The Annotated Edition

Good God, y'all! What is it good for? Absolutely profit!

Hmm... "Dooku for Cocoa Puffs." How did George's licensing vipers miss making a deal on that product tie-in?

War! Republic is crumbling under attacks the ruthless Sith Lord, Count Dooku. There are heroes on both sides. Evil is everywhere.

Just like this whole tired franchise.

Call us crazy but how the hell can those who work for a "ruthless Sith Lord" be called "heroes"?

How fiendish? Check out this name!

What, was "Hitler von Killington" too subtle? How about "Sergeant Satanstein"?

In a stunning move, fiendish droid leader, General Grievous, has swept into the Republic capital and kidnapped Chancellor Palpatine, leader of the Galactic Senate.

Ugh, this is starting to read like Bush's State of the Union Address. What next, will they try to link Vader to 9/11?

His plans to kidnap Letterman's son were foiled.

Probably comprised of droid reservists who had no idea what they were getting into when they signed up.

As the Separatist Droid Army attempts to flee the besieged capital with their valuable hostage, two Jedi Knights lead a desperate mission to rescue the captive Chancellor...

Spoiler alert: it's not Yaddle and Kit Fisto!

It's such a "desperate" mission, why'd they only send two Jedi, one of whom is a nutjob with an insatiable thirst for slaughtering Sand People?

Don't let the 15-year gap between movies fool you — George Lucas is a busy, busy man! Why, between making one of the most beloved movie series of all time, ruining that series, AND trying to save that series, he's got quite a full plate! Just take a look at...

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF GEORGE LUCAS

Start the day with a nice big bowl of slightly stale C-3PO's from 1984!

Get things moving with a nice hot cup of coffee and then head off to the bathroom to drop some rebels into the ol' sarlacc pit.

What to wear, what to wear?

See what Ziggy's up to today.

Put idle Industrial Light & Magic crew to work replacing that burned-out bulb on the patio.

Start random, completely untrue Star Wars rumors on the internet, under a phony screen name, just for the hell of it.

Call digital imaging crew and order new footage added to cantina scene so it's now absolutely, positively clear that Greedo shot first.

Lunch at the Bearded Directors Club.

Meet with John Williams to discuss composing score for the ranch's new doorbell.

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF GEORGE LUCAS

Cancel the additional footage. Let Han shoot first, who cares?

Do more harm than good while unsuccessfully trying to get out of a speeding ticket by using an old Jedi mind trick.

Smooth things over with cop by promising to digitally insert his face in a crowd scene in DVD release of Revenge of the Sith.

Meet with son's teacher to discuss the allegation that he may have had some outside help with his science project.

Feign amusement when car salesman makes lame joke that car "made the Kessel run in less than 12 parsecs."

On second thought, decide to put that shot of Greedo shooting first back in.

While napping, make another $180,000 in toy sales around the world.

Meet with kid who played Anakin in the first prequel; give him a summer job pulling weeds and picking up cigarette butts around Skywalker Ranch.

After mulling it over some more, ask digital imaging crew to try it with Greedo and Han shooting each other at the same time.

Approve a few new Star Wars licensees and products.

Play KOTOR II and spend four hours stuck in the Droid Warehouse on Nar Shadda trying to find the damn rotation code to open the door. Make a note to call that frickin' head programmer at LucasArts and find out how to advance, then fire him.

Issue final decision on Han and Greedo scene: Bro-Hug.

Any career path you choose has its little troublesome quirks. It might be the copier that's always down just when you need it. Or maybe it's that party of five that always heads for a dirty table when you tell them ■ sit anywhere they like. And then there's the matter of a closet full of blood-splattered Armani suits. If that's a common gripe of yours, then the chances are you'll really relate to...

JOHN CALDWELL'S

PET PEEVES OF MAFIA HITMEN

ARTIST AND WRITER: JOHN CALDWELL

...Unslightly silencer bulge.

...Dorks he "takes for a ride" who just never shut up with the, "Are we there yet?!" crapola.

...Finding a "volunteer" to accompany him to his kid's Career Day presentation.

...Overly inquisitive wood chipper repairmen.

...Shooting before his target picks up the check.

...Guys who slip the tongue when he gives 'em the kiss of death.

...The fact that F.B.I. surveillance cameras add ten pounds.

...When the I.R.S. gives him a hard time about writing off piano wire.

...Wicked long lines at the car compactor.

...Pain in the ass mob capos who specify precisely what kind of "accident" they want him to make look like.

THINGS YOU SHOULD NEVER SAY TO A HITMAN...

So that's what a silencer looks like.
How's it work?

The roads look icy. If I were you, I'd put think you

MAD'S PESKY QUESTIONS FOR THE CAST OF

24

When you watch 24 without the commercials, it's a lot shorter — so for DVD collections, did you ever think of changing the show's title to 18?

How many scenes have you had to re-take because they were ruined — the real-life anti-terror technical consultant on the set loudly guffawing over your ridiculous plot twists?

If viewers were confused by former President Palmer doing commercials for insurance during the beginning of the season, won't their heads explode at the end of the season when he's on the show and doing commercials?

Since I had Kiefer Sutherland do a public service announcement clearing a misconception between radical Muslim fundamentalists' heilbent terrorism — the average Americanized individual Islamic heritage, if he battles Neo-Nazis next season, will Kiefer be forced to do another PSA reminding us that Neo-Nazis are people too?

Is there a single viewer in all of God's green earth who doesn't realize by now that "sending back-up" is a code phrase for "Jack's going to do it by himself, because help will never get there in time?"

How is it that at the first writer's meeting of the new season somebody in charge doesn't read but a memo stating "OK, even though we've already written it three times already, no more Jacks; no more endangering someone Jack loves; and no more disagreements where Jack is right and the bureaucratic bosses are made to look like boneheads?"

What's the name of the Teamster whose sole job on the show is to operate the machine that keeps Kiefer Sutherland's face from ever smiling?

the guy who came up with the annoying digital "beep...BEEP...beep...BEEP" noise on 24 the same brain-dead schmuck who created the equally annoying Law & Order "Dun-Duhn" scene transition sound?

When you those "Previously on 24" recaps, doesn't that eat into the hour we're about to see, taking valuable time Jack could be using to save the country, or you bending the space-time continuum or something?

At some point after the first eight hours, wouldn't one of the challenges the head of CTU has to face be whopping, budget-busting overtime expenses?

Three seasons, three evil, foxy African-American women...does mean next season Jack Bauer tangles with Omarosa?

Tony Almeida committed treason to save his wife's life and she still left him when he got out of prison; in the divorce settlement, who got the dog?

In order to heighten the level of realism, shouldn't President Keeler have been depicted reading a picture book to school kids for 7 minutes after receiving word terrorist attack on America?

What FOX executive nimrod let the producers replace Elisha Cuthbert — #63 on FHM's Hot 100 list! — with a fat, sweaty lispng guy?

Since CTU tech geeks repeatedly prove that they can do anything with a computer, how about they find that Nigerian prince who keeps e-mailing us with his tale of war and digitally transferring his millions of dollars into a Swiss bank account for Jack and the rest of the crew?

William Devane's portrayal of a strong, decent and responsible Secretary of Defense intentionally designed to make us aware of our current one's shortcomings or was that just a pleasant by-product?

Everyone's up for 24 hours straight -- why doesn't anyone ever yawn?

First, a word of consolation to all of the Montreal Expos fans reading this. Sorry, pal! And now, a message for the Washington D.C. baseball fan base that's so indifferent to the sport that they've already driven two franchises out of town. Great news! Baseball is a "three strikes" kind of game! The Montreal Expos are now the "Washington Nationals." But Washington has changed a lot since the city last had baseball, and we're betting that some of these changes will be reflected in its new team. Here's what to expect...

ONCE BASEBALL COMES TO WASHINGTON

All ballpark food concessions will be awarded to Halliburton on a no-bid basis.

After every throw, the catcher will be required to address the crowd, saying, "My name is _____ and I approved that pitch."

The manager will be too terrified to send up a pinch-hitter, for fear of being labeled a "flip-flopper" by the opposing team.

Need a new, flashy defensive shortstop? Invade the Dominican Republic!

ARTIST: PAUL COKER
WRITER: DESMOND DEVLIN

The Democratic Party will face serious competition as the city's most "lovable losers."

The entire Washington team will win an unprecedented nine Gold Gloves, simply by refusing to admit they ever made an error.

Tickets will cost $8, $15, $33 and $48. However, for a small additional contribution of $50,000, you can be designated a "Freedom Fan" and get to sit inside the dugout on the third baseman's lap.

There's a better than even chance that the rosin bag on the pitcher's mound is now chock full of Anthrax.

There'll be a double scandal when the team is discovered to have corked its bats with George W. Bush's missing National Guard files.

When the Giants come to town, Barry Bonds will try to make his steroid-swollen head look more normal by having his photo taken with Ted Kennedy whenever possible.

As soon as the home team takes a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning, the manager will call "time out" and announce "Mission accomplished."

"THERE ARE 40 QUESTIONS IN THIS 15-MINUTE SECTION. DON'T SPEND TOO MUCH TIME ON ANY ONE QUESTION. BEGIN."

MRS. FOX?

NO.

BUT THE RESULTS WILL DECIDE WHETHER I GET INTO COLLEGE, RIGHT?

PARTIALLY. COLLEGES ALSO LOOK AT YOUR SCHOOL TRANSCRIPT.

WHICH LISTS GRADES I GOT BASED ON OTHER TIMED STANDARDIZED TESTS.

YES.

BUT IF THE TESTS AREN'T SUPPOSED TO SHOW WHO'S SMARTER, THEN WHAT DO THEY PROVE?

Next to sap-gathering time, high school proms are probably the second most-photographed event in a person's life. Memorable photos, touching photos, funny photos, photos that elicit a deep emotional response from the viewer...but enough about sap-gathering time! Not every picture taken at a prom is a "keeper," though. Some wind up in the trash — and since that's where we usually look to find article ideas, take a moment to enjoy a few...

MAD'S STAR WARS OUTTAKES: SITH HAPPENS

#$$$% Gollum —
I'm the CGI character people love!

Would
you look at the Jawas on her!

Crap! I knew
I should've taken my Hot Pocket out of the toaster oven before we started fighting!

There is no shame in a Jedi
using Rogaine!

Master Yoda,
perhaps we could continue our conversation after you're done peeing!

Never fall asleep on a chenille bedspread right after a Botox injection!

Oh, damn!
The seven o'clock showing of Robots is sold out!

I told you if we didn't get in the air by four o'clock we'd hit terrible rush hour traffic!

You're goin'
to Hollywood, dawg!
You could be the next Alderaan Idol!

Okay, something's definitely wrong with my iPod!

And to make matters worse, R2D2
hacked into my cell phone and posted photos online of me and Anakin doing it "Jedi-style"!

See what happens when you don't wear the retainer?!

Three movies!
Why did I sign up for all three movies?!

Dealt it, whoever smelt it!

Don't worry about it — it happens to a lot of Jedi!

All right, who's the wise guy who put up the "You Must Be This Tall to Ride the Millennium Falcon" sign?!

What if you could see into the future? What if you had the same gift of clairvoyance that's been bestowed on the housewife, and even her children, in a new NBC series? You would be lucky indeed, because then you would know instinctively not to watch, because it's pure...

T E D I U M

What a dream! You were dressed as a circus clown and every time I tried to ask you a serious question, you shot seltzer in my face! The kids took on the body of an octopus and were squeezing the life out of me! And D.A. Devious, my boss, was hurling sharp knives and trying to stab me in the back! All I can say is "Yes! I finally had a fun dream! One that I don't have to examine every little detail of to see if there was some hidden psychological meaning!"

Here's something else you don't have to examine too deeply for hidden psychological meaning! If you keep me up one more night with your screaming and rantings about cockamamie dreams with murders and dead people talking to you, I'm going to hit you in the face with something — and it ain't gonna be a shot of seltzer!

Honey, time to get ready for school!

I'm not going! I mean, what's the use? I got an "F" in three subjects!

That's ridiculous! How could you get an "F" in three subjects if today's the first day of school?

Because I'm your daughter, and I share your "gift." I can see ahead to the end of the semester! Oh, wait a minute! I see a tragic car pool accident involving the three teachers who were going to fall me! Okay, I will go to school! Suddenly, things are looking up!

You have that strange look in your eye! What are you seeing?

I'm seeing an old man putting his arms around a young girl half his age! She doesn't like it, but she's afraid to say anything!

And what do you think that means?

It means that old geezer across the street should get some shades! I can see right into his apartment!

I'm off to work! It's going to be another long, difficult day! I've been working on a killer mathematical problem for six months now!

Six months? I knew the answer the day you started!

You knew the answer? Why didn't you tell me six months ago?

What? So the project would be over? Suppose they fired you? Then you'd be home all day! I need my space! Like right now I have to go back to bed and start my work day! If I don't have a grisly nightmare by noon, my D.A. boss is going to chew me out again for goofing off on the job!

What a drag! From now on I have to make sure none of my victims are gym rats! This guy's muscles are so hard it's taking all the fun out of chopping him up! And my last victim! She was so fat I had to chop through ten layers of blubber before I could even get an arm to come off! So depressing! I know I should be doing something else with my life, but unfortunately this is what I'm best at!

I figured I'd take you to a nice restaurant to help get your mind off your terrible dream you had today!

Yeah, this was a perfect choice! A restaurant with a knife-wielding chef!

Don't think about the knives! Think about the food!

You're right! I'll only think about pleasant things! Do you know how many people die each year from eating contaminated raw fish?

Look! That chef! He looks exactly like the murderer in my dream!

See! He just cut that lady's head off!

He cut that lady's head off because you startled him! I only thank God we're not at a circumcision!

That bumbling Godfrey says "Log On Now!"

This May, Star Wars: Episode III - Revenge of the Sith, will at last reveal how Anakin Skywalker became Darth Vader. We at MAD couldn't wait, so we bought bootleg screenplay drafts from a cash-strapped, former Lucasfilm employee we met online who goes by the enigmatic screen name "billydeewilliams." He promised that this wasn't a hoax, and to prove it, he threw in a free case of Colt 45. That was proof enough for us! So, here, dear readers, is a flow chart summarizing all the plot points George Lucas considered as he decided...

THE ONE WE MEAN ISN'T ON TELEVISION AND IT'S NOT BETWEEN XBOX OR PLAYSTATION 2. THIS IS NOT AN EXAM AND YOU DON'T HAVE TO GUESS. BUT IF YOU, SIR OR MADAM, HAVE THE ANSWER, YOU'RE A GENIUS SAVANT. IT'S USELESS ASKING PEOPLE OF LESS INTELLIGENCE. BY DOING THAT WE WOULD ONLY INVITE RADICALLY CRAZY, WILD GUESSES. STUPID ONES, TOO
